Sample Forecast

Good morning! Unfortunately for those with outdoor plans, light rain will continue throughout the rest of today. It will remain cool, with highs only in the lower 60's. The rain does come to an end tonight, with lows near 50.

Starting Wednesday, the weather will begin to improve dramatically! Mostly cloudy skies are expected on Wednesday, though there will be some sunny breaks.

After a chilly start on Thursday, partly sunny skies will help boost temperatures to seasonable levels. Mostly clear skies along with warming temperatures continue right into the weekend.
